

The Inheritance

Hi Beth

Re. the Fancy Dress party

Darling, I'm in it! Before you emailed I'd pretty much resigned myself to rugging up in front of the TV all winter. What a dullard! Now you've given me the perfect reason to frock up and look a bit glamorous!

What are you wearing? I'd love to go as an Indian actress... remember that little place in Kearns Crescent, Prana? They do "Make Up and Dress Up Bollywood Style", with all the costumes, the henna patterns, the make up and jewellery. They've brought the authentic designs to WA; so many flowing and exotic dresses to choose from... If you haven't chosen your theme yet, why don't you come with me?

I'm booked in for their sumptuous body massage next Tuesday... a sumptuous body massage with therapeutic herbs and warm ayurvedic oil for winter aches and pains. There's a complimentary Fresh Fruit Facial too.

Want to come? My treat darling. I'll raid the kids' inheritance again... ha! As if both will end up in the poorhouse, crying mama spent the loot :-)

Love Jonie

© Preparedmind Australia. For Prana. March 2012